Complete Casting For Roles In CLS Drama, October 18

Members of the cast for the drama, "Mary of Scotland," have been announced by the Rev. Dr. Paul F. Speckbaugh, C.P.P.S., director of the Columbian Literary Society.

Written by Maxwell Anderson, the play captures all the sparkling loveliness of Scotland's most memorable queen, Mary Stuart. The first performance will be presented October 18.

Here is The Cast:

Jamie, Guard.....Marvin Huber
Monk, Guard.....Norman Hemmellgarn
John Knox.....Robert Causland
James Hepburn, Bothwell....
.....John McCabe
Chatelard.....Robert Reilly

Lord Ruthven.....John Nyeste
Soldiers, Guards.

New stage sets are being constructed for the five scenes. Practice sessions are being held each evening and on Sunday afternoons, under the direction of Father Speckbaugh.

The society is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary this season, and anticipates an unusually successful rendition of Maxwell Anderson's vivid romance.

Marching Band Preps For Initial Appearance

Sounds of martial strains wafted out over the campus early this week as the College marching band brought instruments out of dusty cases where they were left last spring and began to practice for their first appearance this semester.

Under the direction of Professor Paul Tonner the group met in the band rooms for indoor practice.

After Professor Tonner has conditioned the old and new members the Rev. Robert Koch, C.P.P.S., will take the organization outdoors for regular afternoon drills.

Play October 11

Drum major this year is Frank Murray, from Chicago, who wielded the baton during the second semester of last year. First public appearance of the band is scheduled for Sunday October 11, when Loras College, of Dubuque, Iowa, meets the Pumas on the local gridiron.

By Homecoming time, October 17, Father Koch and Professor Tonner hope to have the band in shape for an exhibition of fancy, close drill work.

Plan Homecoming Frolic For Saturday, October 17

Meeting last Saturday with the Rev. Edward Roof, C.P.P.S., moderator, members of the Monogram Club began making plans for the annual Homecoming Dance to be held this year on Saturday, October 17. Various committees were named to work out the details of the dance. Though several orchestras are under consideration, the final choice is still indefinite.

With the prospect of gas rationing during the month of November, this may be the last dance to which those attending can come in cars. Admission to the dance is $1.35 per couple before the dance. Tickets at the door will be $1.50.

John Keehner to Head Albertus Magnus Club

Elected president at the first meeting this semester of the Albertus Magnus Science Society was senior John Keehner, of Youngstown, Ohio. The meeting was held last Friday night.

Other officers elected were: George Deininger, Fort Wayne, Ind., vice-president; James Bogan, Decatur, Ind., secretary; and William Browning, Evansville, Ind., treasurer.

Membership in the Albertus Magnus Society—oldest honorary organization on the campus—is open only to those students who have a major or a minor in science and have completed at least one semester of college work.

Want New Members

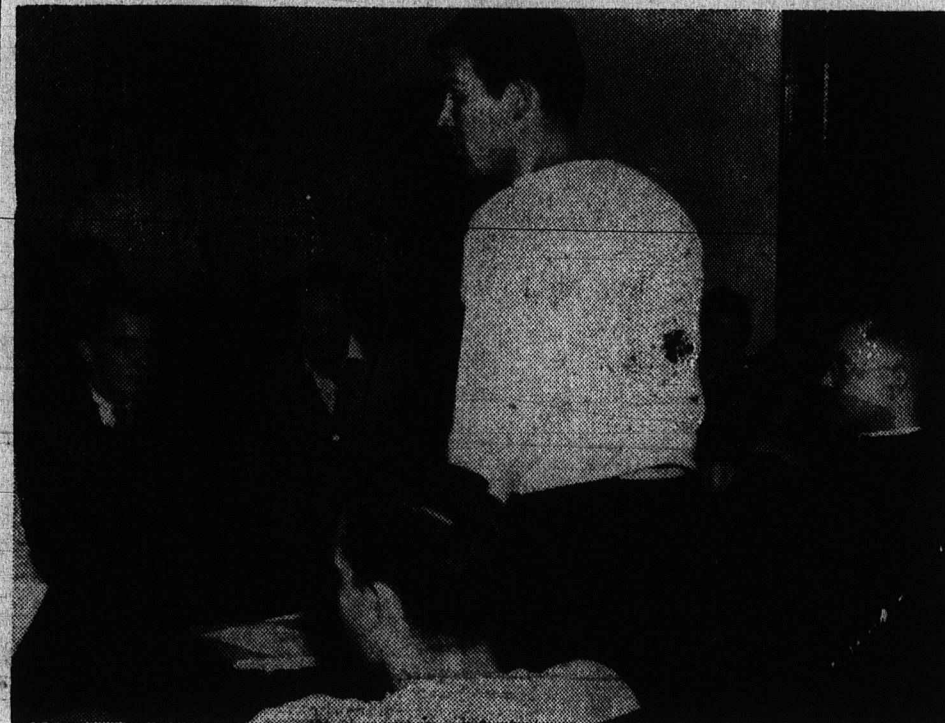

Only other requisite is that the student have an average of eighty per cent in his major or minor subjects. Membership applications can be procured from any member or from the Rev. Albert Wuest, C.P.P.S.

Plays Lead

MISS MARY CENGEL, of Whiting, Indiana, will play the lead in Maxwell Anderson's "Mary of Scotland," to be produced October 18 in the College Theatre by the Columbian Literary Society.

Raleigh Club Changes Date For Frosh Paddle Sessions

Previously announced dates for the Raleigh Club initiation were changed to October 13-14-15 at a meeting of all the old members which was held Monday evening in the club rooms.

An initiation committee of twenty-one was announced, and plans for membership were formulated. If the planned redecoration of the club rooms does not interfere, Friday, October 2, will be "on the house" day for all prospective members. An appointed committee will then canvass all the halls for new members.

The Rev. Clarence Kroeckle, C.P.P.S., club moderator, addressed the members, telling them to foster the spirit of cooperation, brotherhood, and friendliness of the club.

Scribes Dip Pens As Measure Gets Rolling

Editor Francis Kinney announces that the first edition of Measure college literary magazine, will probably be off the press in November.

Work has already begun on the publication, however, and students interested in writing short stories, essays, or poetry are asked to contact either the Rev. Dr. Paul Speckbaugh C.P.P.S., or the editor.

With both the regular staff artists missing from the staff this semester, art work will be decided in open competition. In the absence of any suitable art material, photography will be used exclusively for illustrations.

Photographs were used for the first time in the history of the magazine last spring.

A meeting of the returning staff members, and of aspiring writers, will be called sometime soon.

Students Shiver Old Man Winter Comes With Early Snowfall

King Winter, in an unprecedented arrival last Friday afternoon, smashed all previous records. Never before in the history of St. Joe's has snow fallen so early. Until last week the earliest snow in Collegeville fell on October 10, 1910.

All through the afternoon and evening students splashed through the slush, threw an occasional snowball, or bewildered by the unseasonable bombardment, determined to hibernate for a winter of indoor activity and accomplishment.

Theatre Gets Its Face Lifted Back Stage During Summer

Machinery hummed, hammers rattled, and saws buzzed through the warm summer months in the College Theatre where an improvement program was carried out.

Sanded, refinished, and remarked was the stage floor. It is now marked off into five-foot squares to help backstage crews erect stage sets with more speed and accuracy. Property cabinets have now been moved into the east anteroom and the makeup dressing room was improved.

Student help scraped, chiseled, and washed layer after layer of years-old paint from the many flats in the property department. Then the flats were repainted, and stand ready now for the first Columbian

Science Lectures, Musical Ensembles Are Main Features

Though tire rationing and the Selective Service Act have played havoc with the entertainment world in general, the Rev. Dr. Paul F. Speckbaugh, C.P.P.S., this week released a list of the professional artists scheduled to appear in the College Theatre.

October 20: The Rev. Henry Retzek, M.A., scientist lecture: "Americans? Immigrants? All?" October 24: Petrie Novelty Quartet, musical ensemble, Marimba, Trombone, Piano, vocal.

November 14: St. John's (Whiting) Dramatic Club, presentation of Martinez-Sierra's Cradle Song. November 18: Richard Carpenter, pianist, concert program of piano solos.

December 15: Paul G. Dallwig, scientist, lecture on "Gems, Jewels, and Junk." January 16: Ladies of Song, Vocal Ensemble. Concert program of vocal solos and quartet songs.

February 6: Mary Hutchinson, Shakespearean Actress. Sketches of great women characters of Shakespeare. March 13: Fisk Jubilee Singers, Negro vocal ensemble, choral and solo works.

Camera Club to Elect Officers at Meeting

Tonight is the first meeting for the 1942-43 scholastic year of the Campus Camera Club and should be an eventful one, according to president Don Vogt, Chicago junior, and the Rev. John W. Baechle, C.P.P.S., club moderator.

The annual election of officers will be topped off with a lecture by STUFF editor, Richard Schreiber, Ironton, Ohio senior, on The Place of Pictures in the News. All, especially old members, interested in photography, are urged to attend.

Literary Society production sometime in October.

New Spots Added

New electric extension lines were installed and two new 1000-watt spotlights were added to the lighting equipment. Permanent wiring for the motion picture sound equipment is now being laid by the Rev. Albert Wuest, C.P.P.S.

The red velvet drapes, procured last semester for all the theatre windows, have been sent back to the manufacturer in Canton, Ohio. There they will be lined to prevent fading from the sun. All the varied odds and ends of the stock room have been reconditioned and rearranged for the coming season.

As the Columbian Literary Society prepares to mark its Golden Jubilee, the College Theatre stands ready.

Is It Worth It?

Hitching rides to nearby Rensselaer is all right if it isn't overdone. But standing on the pavement and daring cars to push you off isn't exactly the right way to get a ride. According to state law in Indiana, as in most other states, pedestrians who walk on a highway must walk facing traffic. On Sunday, when traffic is particularly heavy, don't risk your life walking down the wrong side of the highway in large groups. Getting a ride isn't that important. Besides, walking is good exercise.

Come On, Join Up

Soon now the Raleigh Club will open its annual drive for new members. As most students well know, that group is the largest social organization on the campus. Its history reaches back to the earliest days of St. Joseph's College. While STUFF, as the campus newspaper, is impartial in its attitude towards all campus societies, everyone recognizes the advantages of the Raleigh Club. Get your name on the records early. Make the most of the situation. Spend your leisure moments in the Raleigh Clubrooms for the right kind of relaxation.

About Weekly Devotions

Every Tuesday and Friday evening during the month of October, there will be special devotions in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Besides the customary Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, a rosary will be said. The chapel should be filled for those two evenings throughout the coming month. Two evenings a week are very little to offer the Mother of God. Attend the services as often as you can. Pray for Peace and for the millions of our country's men who are fighting for liberty, freedom of thought, expression, and worship in the far-flung places of the world.

Fr. Hartman's Lectures

On Wednesday evenings, in the College Chapel, the Reverend Sylvester Hartman, C.P.P.S., professor of Logic, speaks on spiritual problems in which every Catholic should be vitally interested. At last week's sermon—because not many had heard of the series—only three College students, in addition to the Community Students, were present for the address.

Lectures of the kind Father Hartman is presenting are a form of Catholic Action—passive though that action may be. Remember, the sermons are not only for the Community Students. They are open to anyone who would like to attend. They begin immediately after Benediction.

Following the Flickers

With Dick Schreiber

VAUDEVILLE MAY BE DEAD, but it's like Latin: It shows up when you least expect it. As this column intimated last week, Panama Hattie was little more than oldtime vaudeville in a new dress. From the Great White Way comes echoes of the first pow-wow in a new season. Even there the influence of vaudeville is felt in such shows as Star and Garter, and in all the Priorities revues.

The old days of the Palace Theatre, down where the lights were brightest on Broadway, may never come back. But producers realize that vaudeville's variety and sparkle is always good. Hollywood has revived the old days in every way, from bit scenes to super productions like Yankee Doodle Dandy—the life story of the grand old man of the theatre, George M. Cohn.

Theatricals are just a bit like women's fashions in that regard: They come and go, and repeat themselves.

RITZ: Friday & Saturday

Joe E. (Canyon-mouth) Brown and Judy Canova—whose mouth is just as large but not quite so well publicized—appear together in "Joan of Ozark," farcical tale of Nazis and other screwballs. You may find it too "slapstickish" for your taste. Legion Rating: A-1.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

A year ago Nevil Shute wrote a rather unusual story. It was, all about, a gruff old Englishman who shepherded a flock of children from Naz-imperiled France across the Channel to England. The plain realism of the walking, talking, loving, fighting human beings in the movie version of "The Pied Piper" will hold you as did "Mrs. Miniver." Legion Rating: A-1.

RITZ: Wednesday & Thursday

Continuing a policy of adapting legitimate theatrical hits, Universal Pictures bring George Raft, Pat O'Brien, and Janet Blair together in "Broadway." Universal made its mistake, however, by transplanting part of the action from the Roaring Twenties—as in the original play—to modern times. Legion Rating: A-2.

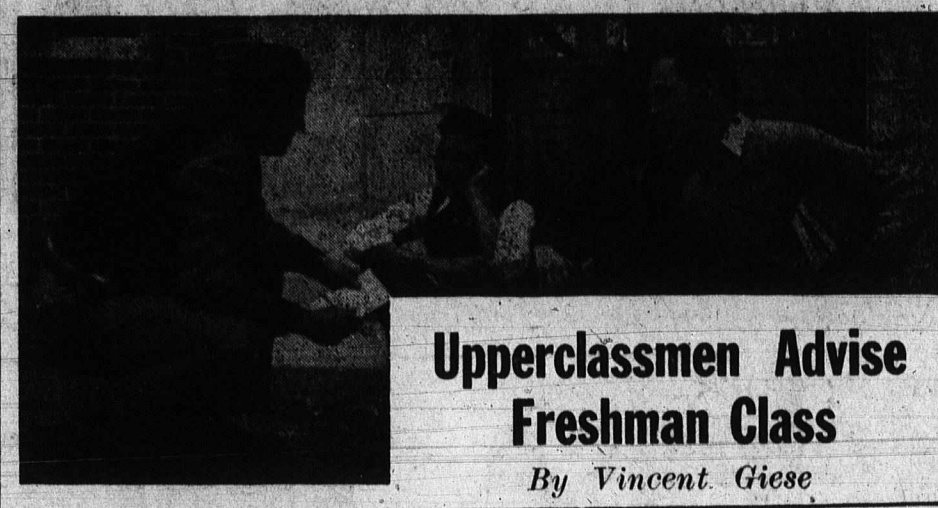

PALACE: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

CAMPUS CAPERS

By Spalding and Piotrowski

Well, so far no bloodshed . . . Did Bill Browning ever tell you about the letters he receives? Printed on the envelopes are the words "God's Gift to the Women" . . . Speaking of letters, Tom Husted isn't doing too bad. In a few days he had four letters from the same address . . . Frankie Stauctet still practicing baseball in the rain . . . Does he believe in fall training, too? . . . Connie Vanderkolk has made a great hit with the freshies . . . They even feel honored to pay his pool bills at the Raleigh Club . . . Ed Bugajski scurrying around to get the whole campus to approve a new collection of snapshots he acquired somewhere . . . Gene Frenchi still entertaining the boys in Noll Hall with his stories of summer experiences . . . If only all of them were on the level! . . . Hats off, or rather hats on for J. Nolan (Moonshiner) Mattingly, Joe (the fearless) Hanley, and George (Curley) Deininger. They've joined the bald-headed ranks . . . Jim Bogan actually forgot to have his class card stamped at the Dean's office. Tsk, tsk . . . Frank (Grunt and groan man) Stodola stumbled into class late the other morning with the excuse that his watch had stopped . . . If you listen closely you can hear Charley Hodge singing "Who Wouldn't Love Me?" We could answer that, but it would only lead to bloodshed . . . Brother Phillip is reading up on Physics and Physical Education to ascertain what differences separate the two. Perhaps he is trying to apply scientific methods to his bicycle exercising . . . Joe Freshman said that his bed is too short. He crawled in the other night and had to sleep doubled up. When morning came he could hardly straighten out . . . What with no initiation there has to be an outlet somewhere . . . Gene Hoffman, Tom Joyce, and Ray Heitzman, are roommates now. They are sharing their quarters with Jim Shields, Gene Ryan, Hugh Davey, and the above mentioned Frenchi. Freshmen are welcome at all times . . . The place is Noll's upper dorm . . . Bet there won't be a freshman near that place for weeks now . . . Head waiter Bladel is feeling the responsibility of his position they tell us.

Upperclassmen Advise Freshman Class

By Vincent Giese

In times like these public opinion cannot be ignored; it is too moving a force. In those countries where public opinion is prohibited, democracy cannot exist.

Each week, through this column,

STUFF goes to the student to ask for his personal opinion on some pertinent topic of the day. In this manner we help to promote democracy, and at the same time provide the student with an opportunity to express his own views.

This week we went to several experienced upper-classmen and asked them for any advice which they might give to the freshmen that will make their stay here more beneficial. Experience is still the greatest teacher.

Sophomore George Ellspermann, of Evansville, offers this advice, "After initiation try to make as many friends as possible, and at all times throughout the year try to maintain a high standard in class work."

Bernie Hoffman, senior from Jasper, Indiana, advises the frosh to acquaint themselves with their fellow-students, become mixers and be active. In times like these some recreation is as important as studying.

Balance seems to be the theme of the advice of Ed Ritter, senior from Scottsburg Indiana, "Never get behind in your work. Put your college life and studies as nearly as possible on a schedule. Join at least one club; participate in intramural sports; and go to Holy Communion at least once a week."

Tom Joyce, junior, from Bureau, Illinois, put it very well when he offered this advice, "Always be friendly to your own classmates as well as to the fellows known as upperclassmen. Turn on the personality, strike a happy medium between social hours and work hours. Joe.

Curtain Club Elects Charles Banet Head For Coming Season

To Charles Banet went the office of president of the Community Student's Curtain Club as the dramatic group met for the first time this school year Sunday, Sept 27, in Xavier Hall.

Other officers are Leonard Goetto-moeller, vice-president; Richard Kissner, secretary; Cornelius Fenton, treasurer; and Raymond Zupkie, critic.

Ralph Bushell, William Schenk, and William Wise will act as the entertainment committee. Afterwards the Rev. Robert Koch, C.P.P.S., moderator of the club, gave a short talk on drama.

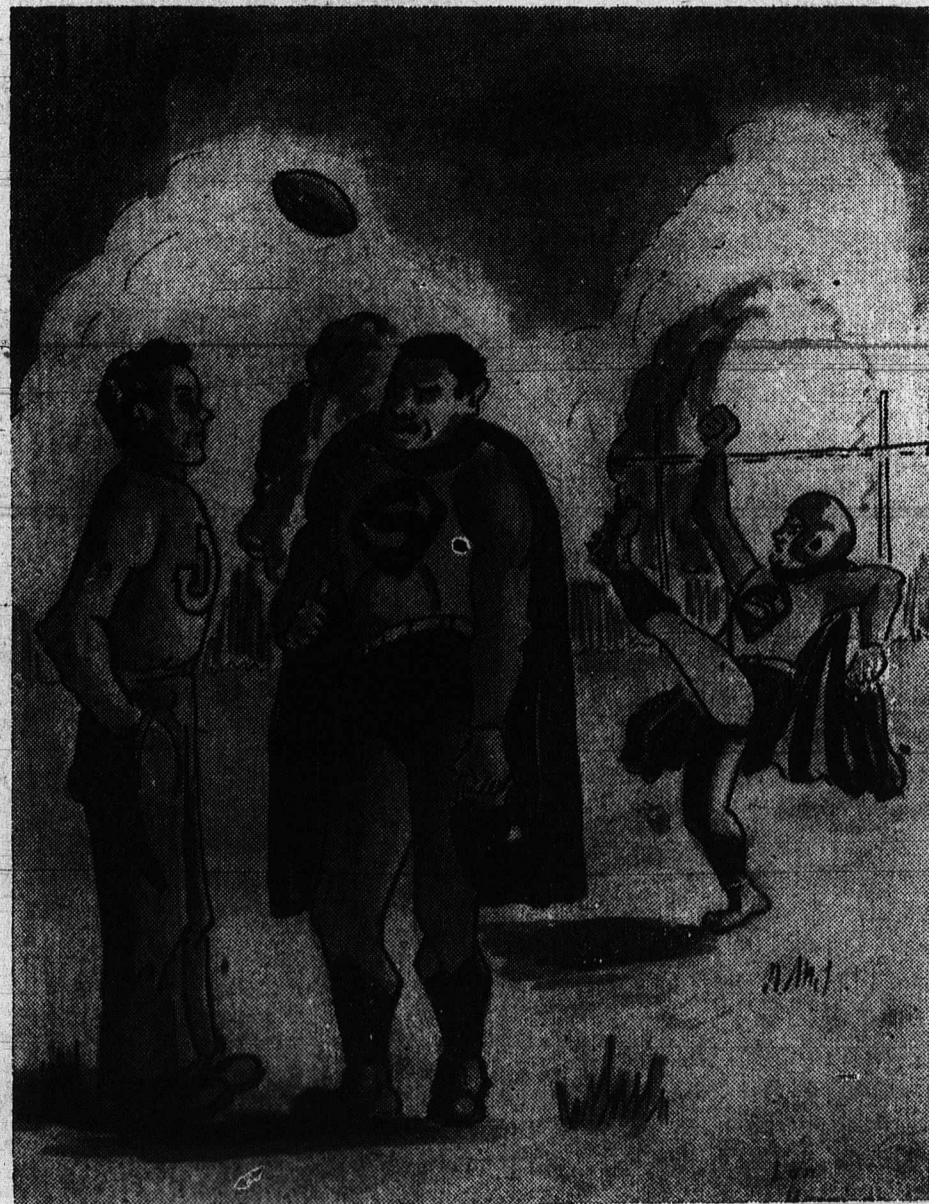

Postal Worker III

Missed at the window of the post office by returning students is dry, humored George Moran. George became ill during the summer months and in the middle of August entered the U. S. Veteran's Hospital in Indianapolis.

Leo Stofko, sophomore from Lorain, Ohio, tells the frosh to "learn to get along with everybody. Don't get sore at the first mistake of your class mates. Mix with fellows, and thus learn to know them. Be a good sport both on and off the field, and practice kindness to everybody." That's sure for success at St. Joe.

PUMAS FACE ILL. NORMAL SATURDAY

Puma Prints

By John Feicht

In the daily newspapers the sports writers always come through with their predictions of the coming sport events. If Kieran, Rice and other sports writers can have their fun, why can't we?

Of course our predicting will be for the coming football season of our Pumas. After watching several scrimmage sessions, it seems as though St. Joe should come through with a good number of touchdowns—just so they come at the right time.

There may be a little lull in scoring punch until the line and backfield get working together as a coordinated unit, but it shouldn't be for long. Considering this fact we will just predict victory in the opener.

Loras shouldn't offer too stiff competition for our boys in the home opener, but the Homecoming game with Illinois Wesleyan should be a natural. Don't forget, it was the boys from Bloomington who put that scratch on our record of last season when they tied us 12-12. We pick the Pumas.

St. Joe should dispose of both Indiana State and Valparaiso without too much trouble, however, St. Ambrose, St. Norbert and Butler will be after our scalp.

The outcome of all these games will be decided by the breaks that occur. If the Pumas are stopped, however, Butler will probably be the team to turn the trick. In their opener they almost downed a highly-rated Xavier team.

In his own words Coach Joe says, "We can't get too optimistic until we've seen them play. Even then don't count on too much because that's a tough schedule."

Ted Nowak, member of the 1941 undefeated football squad, has enlisted in the Navy.

Opponents of St. Joe had better beware as quarterback Stan Lapsys is not only playing football this season, but also taking a course in the Coaching of Football. It's surprising the tricks that Stan has in store for you.

If Heine Kauffman makes as many tackles in the games as he does in scrimmage, there are going to be plenty opponents who will wish he were a senior instead of a sophomore.

All Students to Participate In Some Form of Athletics

Intramural basketball was voted the most popular medium of physical training by the students last Friday as the college physical training program got under way.

One hundred and ninety-three students chose basketball as their intramural activity after November 1, while 37 selected boxing, 31 designated volleyball, and only 18 signed up for wrestling.

These statistics were compiled from the questionnaires filled out by every student last Friday afternoon.

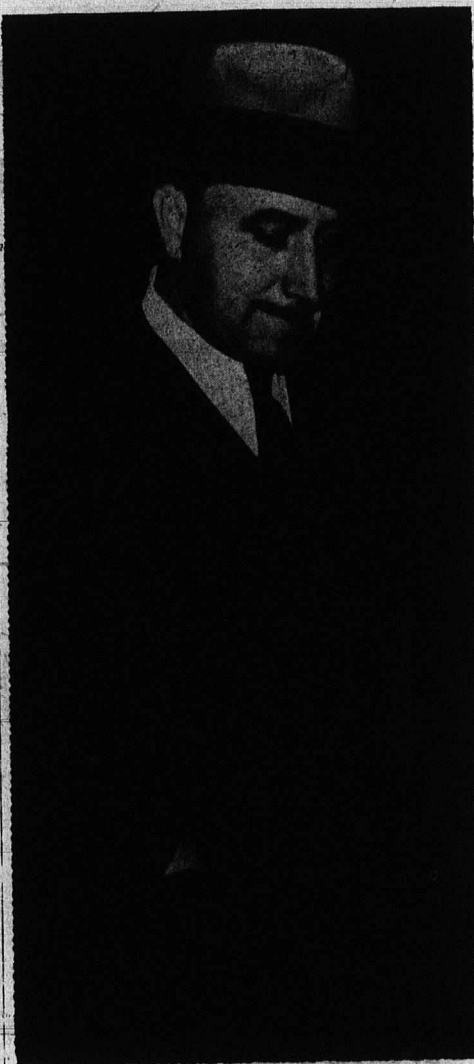

Before November 1, softball and touch football will be offered to enable students to meet their physical requirements. For this period of time, 126 students chose softball while 123 selected touch football.

Varsity Men Exempt

All students who are participating in a varsity sport are excused from the intramural competition only during that period of time for which the varsity sport endures. During the remainder of the year they must participate in one of the above mentioned intramural sports.

The college has introduced this program in order to make it easier for every student to participate in the sport he likes most and thereby meet his requirements at the same time. All students who are not enlisted in one of the intramural sports will be required to take calisthenics.

Coach Joe

COACH JOE DEINHART isn't being too optimistic about the Puma eleven. Opening whistle comes this Saturday with Illinois Normal.

All-Conference Back, Varini, To Lead Pumas This Season

Cub Gridders Drill With Positions Open

After more than a week of practice, the Academy six-man football team, under the direction of Coach Dick Scharf and his new assistant, Brother Francis, is gradually rounding into shape.

Of the 28 players who reported for practice, the most promising prospects are: Backs, Howe Spessor, Mickie Cody, Joe Carlos, Bob Vincent, John Wunderlich, and Clarence Steffes; and linemen, Peter Beltemacci, Jim McHugh, Bob Richert, Rudy Bilderhaus, Jim Quinlin and Dick Imhoff.

To date practices have consisted of conditioning, learning fundamentals and plays.

Conference rules have barred many prospects from the roster of the Cubs.

Wanted: Cheerleaders With Plenty of Pep

A vital asset to any football squad is the spirit demonstrated at the games by students. It's surprising what a few organized yells can do for the morale of the squad when the chips are down.

St. Joe needs some new cheerleaders. Art Hoctor, head cheerleader from last year, has returned, but needs some help in the yell-leading department.

Don't forget to see Art Hoctor, room 81 Seifert Hall.

Here's A Record

Fifteen St. Joseph's alumni are studying in the college of medicine, University of St. Louis. No other college in the country has as many grads in that institution, not even the pre-med department at St. Louis University.

Varini Leads Team Of Seven Veterans In Opening Fracas

Saturday afternoon the St. Joe 1942 football edition will make its initial appearance on the gridiron when they face the Red Birds of Illinois State Normal College, winners of the Little 19 Conference for the past three seasons, at Normal.

This game will be a tough test for the charges of Coach Joe Deinhart. As yet his squad has failed to show in practice the power which enabled last year's team to reach an undefeated season. The backfield is filled with both experience and class, but the line is definitely a question mark.

As for Normal, they will be a very worthy opponent. In their first fracas last Saturday, they lost to Indiana State, 14-0. The combine of Coach Howard Hancock suffered defeat mainly as a result of several bad breaks. However, they did display a big, well-drilled, fast charging line which could cause the Puma ball carriers plenty of trouble.

Watch For Chicas

Leading the Red Birds from the right guard position is Chicas, their captain, who showed himself as a very good defense man in the encounter with Indiana State. Heading the backs is Moreitco, a 195-pound fullback, a great kicker and an excellent line backer.

Coach Hancock will probably start Belle and Morgan on the ends, Harris and Ficevich at the tackles, Captain Chicas and Hofpelhorn at guards, with Woods at the pivot position. In the backfield it will be Turner at quarter, Guarnero and Young at the halves, with Moreitco at full.

Captain Pete Varini will lead the Pumas when they take the field Saturday. Pete will again operate from the fullback spot. His co-workers in the backfield will be Stan Lapsys at quarter, Ted Swierczek at right half, and sophomore, George Ellespermann at left half. Curly Wisniewski will be ready to fill in at half post; Knight will be ready to relieve Varini.

Line Has Changes

In the line Tom Scollard will probably start at left end. Lou Yugovich, an end on last season's club, will get the call at left tackle. The right guard spot will be filled by Heine Kauffman. Luther and Pavletich will be able to step in and replace Scollard and Yugovich should they fail to recover from injuries received in practice.

The center position will be handled by Conny Vandervolk, letterman from last year's team. The right side of the line will be composed of Smith, a senior letterman, at guard, Elmer Wielontek at tackle, and Tom Bestudik at end. Both Wielontek and Bestudik are freshmen.

Saturday's game will be the first meeting of the two schools on the gridiron. Basketball relationship has existed, however, for the past several seasons.

Faculty Members Write For Chicago Magazine

With a view to further the reading of good books two of the St. Joe faculty, the Rev. Raphael H. Gross and the Rev. Dr. Paul F. Speckbaugh, have accepted positions as book reviewers with the staff of the magazine, Books on Trial.

This magazine is published monthly by the Thomas Moore Library and Book Shop of Chicago, Illinois.

In the current issue of Books on Trial Father Gross has an interesting review of the book Living Upstairs by Francis Meehan. In the next and each succeeding issue plans have been made to carry a review by either Father Gross or Father Speckbaugh.

"A magazine of this type," says Father Gross, "is of very great use to all students."

Fr. Krull Donates Set Of Books to Library

A number of volumes of medical books have been donated to the library by the Rev. Vigilius Krull, C.P.P.S.

Father Krull attended St. Joseph's College and graduated in 1899. Until recently he was pastor of SS. Peter's and Paul's church, Ottawa, Ohio. Failing health forced him to retire.

The volumes will be very useful to medical students who are interested in the history of medicine.

New Library Hours In Effect This Semester

New library hours for this year have been posted. Generally they are a half-hour later than last year. They are:

Week Days

9:00 A. M.—12:15 P. M.

1:30 P. M.—6:15 P. M.

7:45 P. M.—9:30 P. M.

Sundays and Holidays

10:30 A. M.—12:15 P. M.

7:45 P. M.—9:00 P. M.

The library will be closed during all games or entertainments which the majority of the students attend.

Commerce Club Elects Ed Ritter President

Edward Ritter, senior from Scottsburg, Indiana, was elected president of the St. Joseph's Commerce Club at a meeting held Monday evening in Science Hall.

Other members of the executive board include Joe Crance, senior from Ironton, Ohio, vice president; Wallace Spalding, Jr., senior, from Louisville, Ky., treasurer; Frank Stodola, junior, from Hamond, Ind., secretary; and Robert DeShon, sophomore from Akron, Ohio, secretary of the executive board.

A special feature of the next meeting which will be held next Monday, will be a talk given by the Rev. Joseph Otte, professor of Accounting.

Phase Names Staff For 1943 Edition

Additional members of the staff of Phase, St. Joseph's year book, have been chosen by editor John B. Kechnner and business manager Bill Smith.

Assisting Smith will be Ed Ritter. Bill Browning will be patron manager, assisted by Bennie Bladel, Donald Vogt, and Joe Reinman. Gene Hoffman, James Sheehan, and Richard Hoshaw will work with Joe Crance, advertising manager.

Staff photographers from the College Photo Shop have already started to assemble the art work for Phase. Negotiations are now under way with several printing firms.

Dust Gone With Wind As Seifert Students Wield New Dust Mops

In Seifert Hall last week residents shook their heads and wondered just when the maid service was going to begin. They had hardly begun their wondering when Seifert's four prefects put in an appearance with nearly a hundred small dust mops—enough for every room in the building.

So, mop in hand, the freshmen—and a few upperclassmen who occupy the building went to work. Hereafter it will be up to the occupants of a room to keep their own room clean.

In other halls, upperclassmen looked shocked when they first heard the news. Then they wore a smirk, and congratulated each other on not living in Seifert this year.

Before long, however, every room in every residence hall on the campus will have its own mop. Upperclassmen's smirk was shortlived. Prefects hope that dust will be just as quickly quelled.

Show Navy Movies

"The Bombing of Pearl Harbor" and "A Submarine at Sea" were the two movies shown to an enthusiastic student audience Thursday evening in the Physics demonstration lab.

These pictures, shown through arrangements with Earl Hemphill of the local American Legion Post, were shown by the Rev. Clarence J. Kroeckel, C.P.P.S., Chairman of the Science department.

Arrangements are being made to produce another Navy film entitled "Sinking of the Lexington" for showing in the near future.

Three New Professors Join College Faculty

Three additions to the faculty—the Rev. Joseph Otte, C.P.P.S., Ambrose Heiman, C.P.P.S., and Edward Maziarz, C.P.P.S.—were announced by the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Lucks, C.P.P.S., dean of studies.

Father Otte received his Master's degree in Business Administration from the University of Michigan last spring. He spent the summer canvassing for the college. Now he will teach in the Social Science Department.

Assisting in Philosophy and Education will be Father Heiman, a philosophy major from the University of Toronto, Canada.

Father Maziarz will also teach in the Philosophy Department. He received his Master's degree in Philosophy from Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

Choir Picnic Sunday

Icy fingers of the first cold wave to reach Collegeville forced the College Choir to postpone its scheduled picnic and outing last Sunday.

The Rev. Robert Koch, C.P.P.S., director, states that, weather permitting, the choir will have an outing Sunday, October 4.

The Academy Corner

By Ed McElroy

During the past summer, Lee Moran, of the class of '42, met an unfortunate death at the age of 18.

Leo transferred from Marmion Academy to complete his senior year at St. Joseph's. He met his death on the evening of June 4 in an explosion at the Ordnance plant at Glenwood, Illinois, where he had been employed for two nights. He was the type of individual beloved both by his class mates and the entire student body of the Academy, a friend the student body will miss.

On Sunday, September 13, a High Mass was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Bernard J. Scharf, C.P.P.S., prefect of discipline. This Mass was attended by the entire student body who offered their Mass and Communion for him. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Moran, his parents, came from Manteno, Illinois, for the Mass.

This year, the first time the seniors have the honor of having their pictures hanging in the Academy study hall. The composite picture is a gift from Mr. Frechette of Fowler, Indiana, who was the official photographer of Twin Towers, 1942

High School Yearbook.

Brother Francis has been named assistant coach to Mr. Richard Scharf and will take over line duties. At St. Charles, Columbus, Ohio, Brother Francis played three years of varsity football at right guard.

Joe Joseph, graduate of last year, is now enrolled at St. Joseph's College. While Joe was in the Academy he participated in all sports and also made a name for himself in all sports. We wish Joe the best of luck in his College athletics.

Last Friday evening the Acolytes club had their first meeting of the new scholastic year. The Rev. Charles Robbins, C.P.P.S., will again be moderator of the club. Father Robbins gave a brief talk to the boys and then conducted the election of officers. The office of president was given John Wunderlich, Aurora, Indiana, and the office of secretary, next, to Edward McElroy of Chicago.
